

GREAT BRITAIN IN A GESTURE FOR KEEPING PEACE

Joins Germany and Italy
In Protest on Violence
In Neutral Shipping

TENSE ON SELLING
OF ALMERIA PORT

Known Loss of Life In Bombardment Is Increased To Thirty

LONDON, June 1.—Great Britain joined Germany and Italy today in protesting Spanish government violence against neutral shipping—apparently as a measure to bolster Europe's peace.

The British stand, well-informed sources believed, was calculated to give reassurance to Berlin and Rome that their demands against the Spanish government were justified.

At the same time it was intended to obtain safety of shipping through the creation by the Spanish government of safety zones for neutral warships.

British spokesmen reiterated that the government was not taking sides in the controversy but was striving only to reform the framework of the international "hands off Spain" committee, now weakened by Italian and German withdrawals following the bombing of a German pocket battleship.

The British protest was based on an attack on the British flotilla leader, H. M. S. Hardy, off Palma Mallorca, on May 25.

The British charge d'affaires at Valencia delivered the protest and received from the Spanish government apparent assurances of its readiness to establish desired "safety zone" for neutral warships off Palma.

Urges Need of Restraint
Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden urged foreign envoys to regard the need for restraint in the new Spanish-European crisis.

Informed quarters quickly stated that, while the government deplored such attacks as the Spanish government's aerial bombing of the German pocket battleship Deutschland, there was no thought of condoning the Reich's retaliatory bombardment of Almeria, on the Spanish coast.

Guns from five German warships, ranged off the ancient Mediterranean seaport of Almeria, a Spanish government-held city, fired 200 shells yesterday, causing 20 casualties and widespread destruction. The cannonade, German officials said, settled the score for 25 sailors killed in the Deutschland bombing and closed the incident.

No government, meanwhile, was willing to undertake an investigation either of the Deutschland or Almeria incidents despite official statements that "full facts are not available."

The Reich charged that Spanish government fliers provoked the incidents by dropping bombs on the Deutschland while she was at anchor in the Balearic island harbor, temporarily off duty from the non-intervent patrol. Valencia has insisted the fliers attacked only after the Deutschland's anti-aircraft guns fired.

European chancelleries were concerned as they have been over no other international tangle of the almost-year-old civil war.

There still were fears that the Spanish government, infuriated by German warship shelling of the Spanish port city of Almeria, might take to precipitate action that would endanger the peace of Europe.

Despite the German government's assertion that the avenging attack of the Nazi warships on the ancient Mediterranean city had closed her quarrel with the Valencia government, observers feared the possibility of renewed conflict.

At least 30 persons were killed, including five women and a child, and upwards of 200 injured in the retaliation for the bombing of the German cruiser Deutschland by warplanes of the Spanish government Saturday.

Death Toll Increased
Almeria, Spain, June 1.—The known loss of life in Germany's naval bombardment of this Spanish government port reached 30 today with huge piles of debris still unexplored and some estimates forecasting a toll of 200 dead and injured.

"More than 200 shells dropped into the city without any fixed objective," Gabriel Moron, the governor declared, "and on a defenseless civilian population."

INJURIES FATAL
TO GEORGE HINKLE

George Hinkle, of Warsaw, injured late Friday afternoon when a truck he was driving collided with a Burlington motor train near Carrollton, died at a hospital in Carrollton about 10:30 o'clock Monday night. With him when he passed away were his wife and their five children.

The body was taken to Lincoln today.

Verne Davis, injured in the accident, was brought today to the home of Paul Ryan, in Sedalia.

Both men were on a truck owned by Paul Ryan and L. A. Spencer, of Sedalia.

HISTORIC TERM
OF HIGH COURT
IS ENDED TODAY

Agrees To Pass on Federal Loans For Municipal Power Plants

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The supreme court wound up an eight-month historic term today by agreeing to pass upon constitutionality of federal loans and grants to aid in financing municipal power plants.

It then adjourned, not to meet again until October. Before that time congress may act on President Roosevelt's controversial court reorganization proposal to put "new blood" on the highest bench.

Before adjourning, the court declined to review litigation filed by the Electric Bond and Share Company and 25 subsidiaries challenging constitutionality of the 1935 act regulating public utility holding companies.

That left, in effect, a lower court ruling which required such companies to register with the securities commission, but did not involve constitutionality of the legislation. A review was sought without waiting for a customary opinion by the circuit court of appeals.

This was the final session attended by 78-year-old Justice Willis Van Devanter, retiring after 26 years of service. He will spend most of his time on his Maryland farm.

Among other actions today, the court:

- Refused to review a decision by the sixth circuit court of appeals ordering a trial before the eastern Tennessee federal district court to determine whether the Tennessee Valley Authority could expand its power program in eight states.

- Declined to pass on two new cases challenging the Wagner Labor Relations Act on the ground that it made no provision for a judicial review of decisions by the National Labor Relations board as to who should represent employees in collective bargaining.

- Consented to review a ruling by the court of claims that Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, son of the late William Howard Taft, could not collect $107 interest on a gold liberty bond which had been called for redemption in advance of the maturity date. A total of $8,849,540,000 of such bonds were called by the treasury before they matured.

PRESIDENT ASKS
CONGRESS TO END
DODGING OF TAXES

Message To That Body
on Evasions By "Rich Individuals"

INSISTS ON ACTION
WITHOUT DELAY

Methods of Evasions Are Cited "Amazing" In Their Boldness

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Roosevelt asked congress today to stop tax dodging "by a minority of very rich individuals."

The chief executive, in a message saying evasion by the wealthy shifts the tax load to those less able to pay, urged legislation at this session "specifically and exclusively aimed at making the present tax structure evasion-proof."

"We face a challenge to the power of the government to collect, uniformly, fairly and without discrimination, taxes based on statutes adopted by congress," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt declared the full power of the government would be thrown behind treasury investigation of income tax evasion and avoidance. He asked authorization to expand the inquiry, giving the treasury full power to summon witnesses and compel testimony.

The President transmitted a preliminary report on the investigation, and expressed confidence congress would share with him a feeling of indignation at findings of evasion.

The report, he said, "reveals efforts at avoidance and evasion of tax liability, so widespread and so amazing in their boldness and their ingenuity, that further action without delay seems imperative."

There are a variety of tax dodging methods, Mr. Roosevelt added, explaining:

- "Some are instances of avoidance which appear to have the color of legality; others are on the border line of legality; others are plainly contrary even to the letter of the law."

- "All are alike in that they are definitely contrary to the spirit of the law."
- "All are alike in that they represent a determined effort on the part of those who use them to dodge the payment of taxes which congress based on ability to pay."

- "All are alike in that failure to pay results in shifting the tax load to the shoulders of others less able to pay, and in mulcting the treasury of the government's just due."
- "All are alike in that failure to pay results in shifting the tax load to the shoulders of others less able to pay, and in mulcting the treasury of the government's just due."

Mr. Roosevelt included a letter from Secretary Morgenthau declaring eight devices are being used by wealthy individuals to escape income taxation. These ranged, he said, from the transfer of assets to personal holding companies in foreign countries to making artificial tax deductions for interest payments and losses.

Besides shutting these loopholes, Morgenthau asserted, congress could raise legislative barriers against three tax practices which specifically are authorized in the law but which he said permit individuals and corporations to escape their fair share of the tax burden.

He said these practices were deductions by oil and mining companies for the depletion of wells or mines, and splitting of income between husbands and wives in some states to take advantage of lower tax brackets, and the payment of only 10 per cent tax by non-resident aliens on income from this country.

Outlining instances of "moral fraud" uncovered in the treasury investigation so far, Morgenthau recited case after case in which he said rich individuals had cheated the government out of taxes.

He said preliminary findings in the inquiry, started after March income tax collections dropped 17 per cent below estimates, had disclosed "conditions so serious that immediate action is called for."

Insists Plugging Loop Holes
The treasury chief requested an appropriation to intensify and enlarge the probe, saying this expenditure would be recovered many times over. If tax evasion and avoidance are stamped out promptly, he continued, the treasury will recover "a very large portion" of the revenue deficiency.

The March deficiency was $149,000,000 under estimates. Mr. Roosevelt has estimated it will be $267,000,000 for the full fiscal year ending June 30.

The President urged congress to confine its tax legislation to plugging loopholes in present laws, reiterating an earlier suggestion that there be no new taxes and no general rate revision at this session.

WORK ON FARM TO MARKET ROAD ON

Work has begun on the farm to market road south from Marshall avenue, which is a Missouri highway commission project, in which they will use WPA labor. The first seven miles will be constructed under the supervision of WPA foremen and with WPA labor, and at the conclusion of that work the state will let a contract for the next seven miles on which relief labor may be used. That leaves about nine miles to be completed at a later date.

The road leads south on Marshall avenue to the southeast corner of the county.

NEGRO IS HELD ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Verne Banks, Negro, charged with robbery, was given a preliminary hearing before Charles M. Bente, ex-officio justice of the peace, this morning and bound over to circuit court.

Banks was arrested in connection with the holdup of John Wolf of Kansas City on East Saline street early Sunday morning. Wolf told police he was on his way to Crown Hill cemetery with flowers for the graves of relatives when he was accosted by a Negro who threatened him with a knife and took about $9 from him.

Unable to furnish a $2,500 bond, Banks is being held in the county jail to await trial.

VIOLENCE FROM STRIKES CREATE
NEW DILEMMA

Contentious Questions
Push Back Collective Bargaining Issue

(By the Associated Press)
Contentious questions arising from strike violence pushed the primary dispute over collective bargaining into the background on the labor front today.

At Chicago an inquest was ordered into the deaths of five men mortally hurt in a clash between police and a crowd which surged toward the Republic Steel Corporation's South Chicago plant.

Meanwhile, 67 men accused by Police Capt. Thomas Kilroy of participating in Sunday's carnage were held in custody for arraignment on charges of conspiracy to commit an illegal act.

A clash at the Republic's Warren, Ohio, plant provoked conflicting charges for unionists and the management. Republic charged "gunmen" among the pickets fired or planes delivering food to workers at the mill. Reports that fire-arms were discharged within the plant grounds brought denials from the company.

Republic stated it would continue to operate plants at Warren, Canton and Niles, Ohio, and at Chicago and Buffalo "because thousands of men in these plants want to continue at their jobs."

A clash at the Ford Motor Company plant recently was the source of another inquiry. Wayne county (Detroit) Prosecutor Duncan C. McCreary demanded the company and Dearborn city officials cooperate with him in seeking the identity of men who assaulted representatives of the United Automobile Workers.

The national labor relations board ordered an election within four weeks among waterfront watchmen at Los Angeles to determine their collective bargaining agent in dealings with 11 companies.

The H. J. Heinz Company today granted 10 per cent wage increases to approximately 2,300 employees but delayed reopening its strike-closed northside plant.

Promised aid from the committee for industrial organization figured today in the currently delayed drive of the United Automobile Workers of America to unionize the Ford Motor Company.

Homer Martin, union president, announced that John L. Lewis, CIO chief, had telegraphed him assurance of "every assistance" from the auto workers' parent body in the campaign.

AT AUXILIARY MEET

Bishop Robert Nelson Spencer of Kansas City will be the celebrant and preacher at the service Wednesday morning when women from the Episcopal churches of Sedalia, Warrensburg, Marshall and Boonville, convene for a district meeting of the Women's Auxiliary at Calvary Episcopal church. The service of Holy Communion will begin at 10:30. A buffet luncheon will follow the service.

The Rev. Dr. M. B. Williams of Marshall will speak to the women in the afternoon, comparing the missionary work of the Episcopal church in this diocese before the financial crash of 1929 with the work which is now being done.

The Rev. Wilbur D. Ruggles of Jefferson City, will also address the women in the afternoon, having as his subject the relation of the church to current questions of industrialism and national life. Both the afternoon addresses will be given in the church, which is at the corner of Broadway and Ohio.

It is hoped that Mrs. A. S. Deacon of Kansas City, president of the diocesan Women's Auxiliary, will be present to preside at the meeting. Mrs. George Rippey, 901 West Eleventh street, is president of the local auxiliary, which is the missionary organization of the women in the church.

All women who would care to hear these addresses are cordially invited to attend the sessions.

PART OF HIGHWAY
FUND MEASURES
GO TO GOVERNOR

Appropriation to Increase
Patrol to 115 Men Is Approved

JEFFERSON CITY, June 1.—Highway department and highway patrol appropriation bills totaling $22,825,450 were en route to the governor's office today, part of fund measures totaling more than $57,000,000 approved in the senate yesterday.

The two highway measures were the only ones on which action was final, as they were not changed from the form in which they passed the house.

For the highway patrol $997,160 was set aside, as compared with $200,000 two years ago. The $197,000 increase will cover raising the strength of the patrol from 87 to 115 men—the maximum allowed by law—and also includes a $127,500 item for installation of six new short wave radio sending and receiving sets, one for each troop headquarters over the state.

Under the new radio setup, the Jefferson City patrol headquarters will be able to communicate with each troop headquarters, and by re-broadcast, to patrol cars in all parts of the state. Two years ago $28,000 was appropriated for radio, as a separate item.

The highway department appropriation proper includes $31,828,290, of which $18,288,290 is for administrative salaries and expenses, and $20,000,000 for road maintenance and construction, as compared with about $2,000,000 for administration and $40,000,000 for maintenance and construction two years ago. Both highway department and highway patrol funds come from gasoline tax and automobile license revenues.

Other appropriation bills passed by the senate yesterday, but going back to the house because of changes, included $12,063,245 for eleemosynary institutions; $12,394,550 for penal institutions, and $255,999 for expenses of the legislature.

The legislature's bill was $55,999 greater than two years ago, but the 1935 appropriation lacked more than $8,000 of covering costs.

The senate contingent fund, from which senate clerks are paid as well as other costs, was set at $100,000 compared to $90,000 two years ago. The house contingent fund was $150,000 as compared to $115,000 two years ago, and the fund for paying mileage and salaries of legislators at $105,000 compared to $95,000 two years ago.

Of the total appropriations approved yesterday, slightly less than $8,400,000 would come from the state's general revenue fund.

INCREASE ON 'GAS'
TAX BILL GOES TO GOV. STARK

Amendments Accepted In Repassage By House
Vote 90 To 21

POSTPONE VOTE ON SECURITY BILL

Senate Changes In Hiking
Circuit Clerks Pay
Approved

JEFFERSON CITY, June 1.—The house completed legislative action on the bill to hike the gasoline tax from 2 to 3 cents a gallon today, sending it to Governor Stark, who urged its passage. The increase would be effective December 7, 1938.

Rep. Roy Hamlin, Hannibal, one of the authors of the measure, moved that the house accept seven senate amendments, all technical. This was done and the bill re-passed by a 90 to 21 vote. It is expected to result, sponsors say, in an additional $9,000,000 in annual revenue for road construction purposes.

Speaker J. C. Christy announced the house was back for "morning, noon and night sessions" for as long as is necessary "to finish up." Rep. John D. Taylor, Keytesville, predicted final adjournment would come sometime Sunday.

A house vote on Senator M. E. Casey's "omnibus" social security bill was postponed until late today after Rep. V. E. Phillips, Kansas City, asked time to get word from the federal social security board as to acceptability of a provision requiring representatives of the state social security commission to have been residents of the county five years.

The house inserted this provision, but doubt has been raised as to whether it would meet administrative requirements of the U. S. board, which has threatened to withhold U. S. matching of state pension money.

Senate amendments to the so-called "itinerant merchants" bill were accepted, and the measure sent to the governor on an 88 to 22 vote. As finally passed the measure requires a $5 annual license fee from those whose business is conducted chiefly from trucks or automobiles plus posting of a $300 bond to guarantee payment of the sales and other taxes, labeling of their trucks as those of "itinerant merchants," and keeping a list of all sales and purchases made, one copy to be filed monthly with the secretary of state.

Also passed was a senate bill to require that registrars of lists in St. Louis and Kansas City be printed from type, rather than by any other process. The measure was sponsored by union printers.

On motion of Rep. Hiland D. Kelley, Springfield, his bill to create a legislative council was "definitely postponed," which kills it for this session. A similar bill has passed the senate.

The house also accepted senate changes in the bill hiking the pay of circuit clerks in all except the larger counties, and placing them on a salary rather than a fee basis. Part of the increase will not be effective until after the next election, but an additional hike made to the clerks as "clerks of the juvenile court" can be retained by those now in office.

Senator Phil Donnelly, Lebanon, assailed this measure as "part of the grab bag program," when it was up for a senate vote.

The senate shortened its morning and afternoon session in order to give the appropriations committee, headed by J. S. Rollins, Columbia, more time to check the "omnibus" and educational bills on which it is working. The "civil list" appropriations bill was thrown into conference when the senate refused to recede from amendments rejected by the house.

Senator Gene Frost's bill to raise the salary of the chief clerk in the state auditor's office from $2,500 to $3,000 failed of passage by one vote—17 to 10.

The senate passed and sent to the governor a house bill by Representative P. G. Wild, Grundy county, and L. N. Dixon, Mercer county, requiring the county court to take over maintenance of drainage ditch bridges in districts organized under the county court. Senator Ray Arbee handled the bill.

TEMPERATURE OF 90
THREE DAYS IN MAY

The three warmest days during the month of May were the 20th, 28th and 29th, when the mercury ran up to 90 degrees. The average maximum temperature for the month was 78.4 degrees. The lowest temperature was May 14, when the thermometer registered 49, bringing the average low temperature for the month to 56.2.

These figures were compiled by Mrs. George B. Trader who is in charge of the government weather station for the county.

ALLEGED SLAYER TO WEST PLAINS JAIL

(By the Associated Press)
WEST PLAINS, Mo., June 1.—Officers announced today Robert Kenyon, Howell County youth held for the kidnap-slashing of Dr. J. C. R. Davis, at Willow Springs on Jan. 26, had been returned to the jail at West Plains. He has been held in jail at Kansas City following his arrest. He was one of the first prisoners placed in the new county jail here, which is on the third floor of the new court house.

Kenyon is scheduled to face trial in circuit court on June 15, but court attaches said the defendant's attorneys may ask for a change of venue.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 1.—Bob Burns, radio and screen performer, and his secretary, Miss Harriet Madella Foster, were married here last afternoon by the Rev. Albert C. Melton.

The sage of Van Buren, Ark., gave his age as 47 and his bride's at 28. They arrived here aboard an air liner under the names of Mr. and Mrs. Lastogle, a name Burns said he picked out of his mind.

"It kinda hurt my pride, after all the trouble I took, to think someone beat me," Burns remarked when he was recognized by a newspaperman at the airport here.

The reporter, John F. Cahlan, obligingly arranged the details of the wedding, which was performed at the minister's residence, and acted as one of the witnesses.

Afterward the couple had dinner and drove to Boulder Dam. They said they would return to Los Angeles Thursday.

Burns' first wife, the former Elizabeth Fisher, died in Los Angeles last August after an operation. He has a 15-year-old son, Robert Jr.

FOUR INJURED IN COLLISION OF CARS

A pickup truck, driven by Leonard Neff of Kansas City, whose wife and 4-year-old daughter, Martha Jane were with him, collided about 2 o'clock this morning with a Buick car, driven by Will Martin, also of Kansas City, four miles west of La Monte on highway 50.

Mrs. Neff received contusions and abrasions on her head and Mr. Neff and the baby received minor injuries. They were taken to the Bothwell hospital where their injuries were said to be not serious, and they are going to their home this evening.

C. H. King, also of Kansas City, aged 37, Mr. Martin's father-in-law, was thrown forward in the Buick and suffered fractured ribs. He was taken to Kansas City.

Both cars were damaged. Highway Patrolmen Carl and Priess were called to the scene.

(By the Associated Press)
SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, June 1.—Amelia Earhart landed at San Juan at 1:30 p. m., eastern standard time today on the first hop of her proposed "just for fun" flight around the world.

Miss Earhart, flying at a pace she called leisurely, completed the 1,033 miles from Miami in 7 hours and 33 minutes.

MIAMI, Fla., June 1.—Amelia Earhart took off for San Juan, Puerto Rico, at 5:57 a. m. (eastern standard time) today on a second attempt to fly around the world "just for fun."

Just before the takeoff, her husband, George Palmer Putnam, leaned into the cockpit to kiss her good-bye and shake hands with her navigator, Captain Fred Noonan, who is to accompany her on the 27,000-mile west-to-east journey.

After leaving her side, Putnam paced nervously back and forth along a balcony until her ship got off the field. With him were his son, David, and the young man's wife.

Putnam planned to remain in Miami until his wife reaches Natal, Brazil, her jumping-off place for Africa. A commercial airline (Pan American) will monitor her flight over its regular route to South America and expects to have reports on her progress.

Miss Earhart planned to cruise the 1,033 miles to San Juan at a leisurely 150 miles an hour to test her plane further and said she would return to Miami if anything went amiss.

The aviatrix radioed at 6:40 "everything O. K." and that she was proceeding. Her position then was somewhere south of Miami but was not taken definitely.

Aboard the craft were emergency food provisions, a rubber lifeboat and lifebells in case of a forced landing at sea. The tanks of the ship, a land plane, were equipped so they could be emptied quickly and would serve to keep it afloat.

JUNE

June! And what a pity it can't have sixty instead of only thirty days. One might say with Lowell in his Sir Launfal, "Oh, what is so rare as a day in June," and then add to it the wisecrack, "Why, two days, of course," and not be far amiss, for June, even when it shows, is charming.

June, the month of brides, is also the month of roses, and other radiant blossoms too—and the rose has to do valiant battle to hold its own with these of showy garb and flaunting airs. Nevertheless the rose remains the favorite of all the June flowers, as lovely when its petals come to fullest bloom and fall as when in the bud. George Eliot voiced thought in language as beautiful as the rose itself.

June, month of brides, roses, graduates—month, too, of the hay harvest moon, of the doors of new mown hay, of plans for vacation; month of the "Good Old Summertime," of long evenings and pleasant memories; a rare month, a wonderful month, so much to be enjoyed, and only 30 days in which to do it.

SEES END OF THE LONG DRY CYCLE

From New York World-Telegram.
Until now the smile on the face of the farmer has gone a bit wry when he was reminded that prices of about everything but cotton are "back to parity." The reason is that drouths have cut his crops so low that his net income is still below that of the five-year average of 1909-14. But from Washington comes news that should cause a broad rustic grin of unalloyed satisfaction. It is a prediction by J. B. Kincer, chief of the division of climate and crop weather of the department of agriculture, that the end of the drouth "cycle" is in sight.

Weatherman Kincer did not look into the sky or a teacup or a crystal to get his prophet's vision. He looked back over rainfall records of one hundred years. That graph convinced him that the long drouth cycle of 1909-1836 has "reached bottom," with an upswing in precipitation due for an indefinite span of years.

"For the first quarter of 1937," he said, "the country is in good shape. There is abundant moisture everywhere, and planting should produce good crops if there is no change in the present trend." Only five states are below normal in snow and rainfall, and in these states the precipitation is less than 10 per cent off.

A bumper wheat crop is in prospect this year, which, with the present high prices and good foreign and domestic markets, should produce our first billion-dollar wheat harvest since 1927. The rain gods have been particularly kind to the long suffering "sky farmers" of the dust bowl.

While rejoicing at the prospect of probable wetter years America should not rest its labors toward a better agriculture. We have had plenty of warnings against misuse of our basic resources, the land. Terrifying dust storms, costly floods and the slow destruction of top-soil by erosion teach us that nature needs the cooperation of men even during the years of plenty.

IF YOU WIN, YOU LOSE

From Portland Oregonian.

Whatever else one may think about George Bernard Shaw, one would seem obliged to regard him as realistic in his appraisals, particularly of the genius homo, including himself. In what purports to be a conversation between Shaw and John Drinkwater, written by Shaw himself, and concerned with the coronation of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, Shaw says:

"John, would you believe it? I can remember the time when the British parliament talked for forty years of nothing but Ireland. And after all we had to fight it out like savages. In those days I was an interesting man solely because I was an Irishman. Now that Ireland is free and forgotten, nobody knows nor cares whether I am an Irishman or a Hot-tentot."

And then, in answer to a query from Drinkwater as to why he did not go back to Ireland and live there, G. B. S. said: "Man alive, they think nothing of me in Ireland; the people are forbidden to read my books there!"

"Old oppressed Ireland!" Have we heard the last of that rallying cry? Has the old order come to its end? Are there to be no more "boycotts," no more joyous cracking of crowns with shillalaws? Observe what has just happened. An "Irish Free State" is handed a brand-new, hand-painted, deckled-edged constitution by Eamon De Valera. There is scarcely a ripple in the news and the world goes on watching the ruckus down in Spain. As Shaw put it, Ireland won her freedom and lost her publicity.

KEEPING NATIONS FIT

The idea of a "fitter Britain" has been started and plans to improve the nation's health have been outlined. This idea of improving the nation's health has been heartily approved by everyone, but controversy arises over what are the best methods to improve health.

The immediate program confines itself to physical training and recreation. The importance of nutrition is well realized but nothing has been done along that line as yet.

England has recently launched upon a ponderous naval building program. It is not unlikely that plans to improve the nation's health are being made also as a measure of defense and preparedness.

Wartime statistics, the Columbia Missourian asserts, reveal the crying need for health improvement. Of 2,750,000 men examined for army service here in the United States, only 53 per cent of its nation's youth were found to be passably fit. Twenty-five per cent were found to be absolutely unfit, 2 per cent were accepted for limited service, and 20 per cent were found defective, but were accepted anyway.

Since the war, and even before, this country has been athletic-conscious. The land is dotted with gymnasias, swimming pools, golf links, tennis courts, and playing fields. Looking at a detailed report on the cause for military rejection, however, leads one to believe that if the youth youth of the country again were tested about the same percentage would result.

Ten per cent of the men were turned away because of defective eyesight. No amount of exercise would improve that. Structural defects kept out a great many more. And so on down the line, the bulk of the men who were refused were refused on grounds to which exercise has little or no relation. Yet it is not too much to expect that physical educators teach youth the value of adequate rest, fresh air, and a reasonable amount of good food. That would prevent much disability—and the danger of over-exercise, as well as the need of proper recreation and circulation.

We do not mean to belittle the value of exercise, but to improve the nation's health it seems that proper nutrition, clinics, sanitation, and the like, will do more to better physical conditions.

As the Manchester Guardian says in commenting on England's physical education scheme, "The Government has produced satisfactorily the spectacular part of its programme; it must be persuaded to hurry in producing the cake to go with the icing."

GYPSIES HONOR SAINT

From the New York Times.

Traditions die hard in Provence. This explains why St. Sarah's pilgrimage, which originated in the eleventh century, is staged every year on May 24 and 25 in the quaint old village of Saintes-Maries-de-la-Mer, France, on the Mediterranean.

Plans have been made this year to welcome 35,000 pilgrims, tourists and other travelers. Of this number some 1,500 will be authentic gypsies from all parts of Europe, following the example of their ancestors in paying tribute to Romany's patron saint, St. Sarah. In medieval days, it is recorded, the gypsies at this pilgrimage numbered 100,000. Modern historians seriously question the accuracy of this figure, but there is no doubt about the antiquity of this pilgrimage; it probably goes back to the days of William the Conqueror.

That St. Sarah was a gypsy is the firm conviction of the nomad gypsy tribes of Europe. If Provencal legends are to be believed, she landed at Saintes-Maries-de-la-Mer with the two holy women who gave their names to this village, namely, St. Mary Salome and St. Mary Jacoby. Sarah was their servant, and all three are declared to have been personally acquainted with Jesus.

Red-headed Frank Murphy, Governor of Michigan, was about to address an audience. The crowd rose in tribute to him.

"Sit-down," he told, "I'm used to it."

"And I suppose you're dreadfully in love with him?"

Charles Stuckey, of a London law firm, reluctantly has agreed to a scheme to defraud the daughter of one of his few respectable clients, Jacqueline Smith, of an inheritance of $1,000,000 from an American uncle. In keeping with the plan, Colonel Alex Lutman, who has a hold over Stuckey and Jim Asson, an ex-convict, are stopping at the same hotel in Coblenz with Stuckey and her daughter. Jim hopes to marry the girl, having her assign her property to him, before Stuckey informs her of her inheritance. In dire financial straits, Mrs. Smith already is impressed with Jim, going as a wealthy Englishman, as an admirable "catch" for her daughter. Lutman, in the role of Jim's trustee, subtly threatens Jacqueline with a check he cashed for her mother's returned marked "insufficient funds." Finding her mother distraught over their financial plight and Lutman's implied threat over the check, Jacqueline tells her she will marry Jim. Stuckey arrives at the hotel and Jacqueline meets him accidentally. Charles shows Jacqueline a rough draft of the marriage settlement he says her mother asked him to draw up.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 16

CHARLES STUCKEY, somewhat uneasy, continued his chat with Jacqueline.

"Look here, Miss Jacqueline," he said. "About this young man—Jim Asson. He's—er—well, he's a nice young man, isn't he?"

"Oh, yes, quite nice."

"And I suppose you're dreadfully in love with him?"

"Oh, no."

"H'm," said Charles. "That is very awkward. But of course, you never know. You will probably grow very fond of him after. I find in my practice that people very often grow very fond of each other after."

"After what?" said Jacqueline. "After the divorce? Do you know Jim Asson?"

Charles shook his head.

"Never seen him in my life," he said brazenly. "But he's the sort of man you could love, isn't he, even if you don't love him now?"

"No," said Jacqueline, "not at all the sort."

"Oh yes, he is," said Charles. "She shook her head."

"Sorry, Charles, but he isn't. And how do you know, anyway, if you've never met him?"

"I know it," said Charles. "Because, with my experience as a judge of character, I am firmly convinced that Miss Jacqueline Smith would never agree to marry a man for the sake of $100,000 a year if she didn't feel that she would in due course be able to love him as any man expects to be loved by the woman he marries."

Charles smiled.

"Don't be pompous, Charles," she said. "I really like you very much—as a lawyer—and when you start being pompous it makes me want to punch you."

Charles was quite obviously pleased.

"You really like me?"

"Yes, I really do like you, but don't mess about with your tie because I tell you that. It is funny, isn't it?"

Charles' hand dropped from his tie.

"What's funny?"

"Haven't you ever noticed that flattery goes to a woman's head but it never gets farther than a man's necktie?"

Charles sighed.

"You seem to know a lot about men, my dear Jacqueline."

"I do," said Charles. "If you spend a few years living in third-rate Continental hotels you gather quite a lot of knowledge of men. The men you meet in Continental hotels, Charles, may be divided into two classes: those who call you 'dear little thing' and those who call you 'dear old thing.' The first have wives, and the second have mothers; I haven't yet decided which is worse. A mother, I think I've got one."

Charles looked a little shocked.

"That is hardly the way to speak of your mother," he began, but Jacqueline cut him short.

"I am going to tell you something," she said. "I am fond of mother, though I really don't quite know why. It isn't just because she's my mother. She can be awfully sweet, and she's pathetic, somehow. Sometimes I feel there's nothing I couldn't do for her, and at other times there's nothing I want to do so much as clear out and never see her again. I expect I'm hard, but when you've spent your mornings explaining to twaddlepeople in French and German and most other European languages that the bank manager only returned the check because mother hadn't crossed the 't' in Millicent, and your afternoons watching mother shaking her head and frowning and sighing and doing sums on little scraps of paper when she thinks no one is looking, and when you've gone to her room at night to say good night to her and found her sobbing on the pillow and wishing she'd never been born—well, you've either got to get hard or get soft, Charles—and if you get soft you're finished."

Charles was wondering how best to reply to that outburst of confidence when he heard the sound of footsteps and glanced round to see Mrs. Smith, with Colonel Lutman and Jim Asson in attendance, coming toward them across the terrace.

"My dear Mr. Stuckey!" exclaimed Mrs. Smith. "I didn't expect you to arrive until tomorrow, but you never know what a lawyer will do next, do you? Been making friends with Jacqueline? Jimmy, this is my family lawyer, Mr. Charles Stuckey. This, Mr. Stuckey, is my future son-in-law, Mr. James Asson—nephew of Lord Penson."

"Indeed!" said Charles, and shook hands with Jim.

"And this," said Mrs. Smith, "is Colonel Lutman. He's Jim's trustee, you know."

Charles shook hands with Lutman.

"Now, of course," said Mrs. Smith, "we have got to get to business. We'll all sit down here, shall we? I'm sure we pay enough at this hotel, and we may as well get all we can for our money."

They seated themselves round the table beneath the sun umbrella—all except Jacqueline, who strolled away and leaned on the parapet of the terrace a few feet from where they were sitting and gazed out across the river as though the proceedings were of no interest to her.

"And now, Mr. Stuckey," said

Individuals who register several or more times in the hope of getting added old-age union insurance are due for disappointment. When the Board completes the installation of its "master index" system these duplications are certain to be uncovered. North Carolina Republicans are doing some free and fancy cussing over Federal Judge Isaac Meekins' appointment of Thomas Dixon, author of "The Klansman," as clerk of his court. Dixon is a Democrat who bolted the New Deal last year first to support Governor Gene Talmadge, later Governor Alf Landon. The North Carolina G. O. P. are sore because they feel Dixon was not entitled to the $5,000-a-year sinecure. Meekins was appointed to the bench by Coolidge.

There are several acute inflammations which occur inside the abdomen which are best not operated on during the acute stage because the patient is too much in shock. Besides the gall-bladder, there is acute inflammation of the tubes. When the acute stage has passed, it is safe to do the operation. The patient usually feels better then and wants to put it off. But he should remember that the attack is likely to recur and should co-operate with the surgeon and make such practices as Dr. Gibbs described unnecessary.

Diet and Health

By DR. LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

PHYSICIANS WHO SCARE FOLKS INTO OPERATIONS

My old friend, Dr. Adrain Gibbs, has been attending the meeting of the American College of Physicians.

"Every once in a while," he says, "you meet a fellow who is so clear headed and honest that he clears up a subject that has been lying around in your mind in a sort of muddled state, and there's a relief that comes with it like suddenly getting a tight shoe off."

"That's what happened to me the other day when I went into a clinic on gall-bladder disease. It was by a surgeon, and you would think that surgeons would be in favor of operating. But not this one, and that is why he made such a hit with me. He said that when a gall-bladder gets actually inflamed it is dangerous to operate on the patient until the acute phase has subsided. So far as he knew, that was generally agreed among his professional colleagues."

"But recently," he said, "a certain surgeon had been crying 'Wolf!' and saying that there was danger of the gall-bladder perforating during acute inflammation, and that operation should be done immediately in order to prevent this. This surgeon reported that 34 per cent of his acute gall-bladder infections had perforated."

"Certainly a very high percentage and difficult to explain. In a series reported from the Mayo clinic, which notoriously has accurate statistics, the percentage of perforation of the gall-bladder was 12 of 1 per cent."

"The facts are, that if a patient comes to your office and you find he has an acutely inflamed gall-bladder, if you send him to the hospital in his car, there is less danger of his gall-bladder perforating than there is of his having an automobile accident on the way."

Use Scare as Club
"Why do doctors allow themselves to say such scarehead things? Well, it isn't very creditable of them, but the real reason is that the only way they can persuade some of their patients to have an operation is to scare them into it. And they use this fear of a dangerous complication whether the facts justify the fear or not."

WASHINGTON—Keep your eyes open for a new move to strengthen relations with Soviet Russia.

One or two Cabinet members have got restive over the narrow policy of the State department in giving Russia the cold shoulder merely because of $178,000,000 in unsettled debts.

The ex-Allies owe this country about eleven billions, these officials point out, compared to which the Russian indebtedness is mere chicken-feed. Meanwhile the United States is cutting off its nose to spite its face by losing tremendous amounts of profitable trade, also Russian political support in the Far East.

Note—Present State Department policy is to put Russia on the No. 3 or worst list in setting tariff rates, and to refuse all dealings with her through the Export-Import Bank. Meanwhile the bank gives credits to Fascist Italy.

Lasque Children
The State Department has been under terrific undercover pressure by Catholic groups to prevent the admission of 500 Basque children, whom American sympathizers plan to place with American families as a result of the siege of Bilbao. Catholic leaders claimed that the children were to be placed in the homes of American Communists.

However, the State Department stood its ground. In the first place, Basque Catholic priests are to accompany the children and make sure that they are properly cared for.

In the second place, a secret precedent already existed for admission of refugee children, when 250 German-Jewish children came here during the "azi purge."

Incidentally, applications for Basque children already have been received from 2,700 families. Since there are only 500 to go around, the committee plans to be very choosy about the foster-parents. Probably the kids will live in clover.

Maritime Raid
The new U. S. Maritime Commission can testify that "it never rains but it pours."

Working day and night to pass on shipping route involving millions of dollars, which must be disposed of by June 30, the Commissioners suddenly have been confronted by a frank raid on Capitol Hill.

Railway lobbyists, operating behind the scenes, have engineered bills transferring regulatory authority over inland, coastwise and foreign lines to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This would deflate the Maritime Commission like a pricked balloon.

For years the railroads have been trying to jockey regulation of competing water carriers under the wing of the—where it would be administered by railroad-minded officials.

Governing Winant
Just back from Texas, John G. Winant, ex- chairman of the Social Security Board, will soon be packing his bags again. He is going back to Geneva to resume the work of Assistant Director of the International Labor Office.

The lanky, slow-spoken former Governor of New Hampshire left the Geneva job to become sole Republican member of the Social Security Board.

Just a year ago, with the Republican National Convention in the offing, Governor Landon told friends he thought Winant would make a good running mate. Instead, Winant campaigned against Landon.

Winant will leave for Geneva in August. He says, "I didn't finish the job I was doing there, and I always intended return."

Merry-Go-Round
Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy Helvering has completed an entire reorganization of the vast tax collection machinery of the Government. Under the modernized system, tax returns are checked within a few months after their receipt. Under the old procedure two to five years often went by before the Bureau got around to examining returns.

The Social Security Board has a new problem on its hands—combating bunco schemes. The two most frequently encountered are plural registrations and counterfeit registration cards. The latter are being used to cash rubber checks.

ESTIMATES COST ON GASOLINE TAX HIKE

The one cent increase in the state gasoline tax rate which the Missouri senate has just passed will raise the tax bill of the average Pettis county motorists $7 per year, according to estimate made by Harry Milton, member of the advisory committee of the Missouri Petroleum Committee. This estimate is based upon the number of automobiles registered in Missouri last year and the amount of gasoline tax paid.

He pointed out that there were 7,868 automobiles registered from Pettis county in 1935 and that the 1 cent increase, if it is permitted to become a law, will cost Pettis county motorists a total of $55,076 annually.

Mr. Milton stated that the predominance of public opinion is against any gas tax increase at this time. He said, "a mail poll taken by the Automobile Club of Missouri revealed that the 10,523 members voting were 28 to 1 against the increase. A radio poll taken by Harry W. Flannery, KMOX news commentator, showed sentiment 12 to 1 against the increase. As late as April this year the people of Trenton voted on a proposal to impose a 1 cent gasoline tax in lieu of possible property taxes for street purposes and rejected it by a vote of 5 to 1.

"Sentiment seems to be equally as strong here," Milton declared, "because no one can see any necessity for increasing the tax after we have done so well with our road program on present tax rates.

"Oil men all over the state have used their influence to aid the motorists in their fight against this increase and will continue to do so," he added.

State Senator Charles Ewen of Sedalia, voted for the increase in the senate.

MID-SUMMER HEAT ON MEMORIAL DAY

According to the official recording of 89 degrees the temperature in Sedalia Monday was within a degree of the high for the month.

Mid-summer heat greeted holiday celebrants in some sections of the nation Monday while rain poured down in the southwest and snow fell in western mountains.

Unofficial temperatures in Maine ranged as high as 110 degrees, resulting in one death and collapse of a number of Memorial Day marchers.

San Antonio, Tex., on the other hand, reported six inches of rain which flooded homes in low areas, buckled wooden paving blocks and clogged storm sewers.

Show and a low temperature of 44 degrees were reported in mountains surrounding Salt Lake Valley, Utah.

Flood crests of the North Canadian and South Canadian rivers, swept east across Oklahoma disrupting railroad and highway traffic. Five bridges were washed out and hundreds of acres of farm land inundated.

Eastern Oklahoma reported beneficial results to crops from the rain but the southwest cotton crop was believed damaged by excessive moisture.

URGES COMBATTING OR ARMY WORMS

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBIA, Mo., June 1.—Dr. Leonard Haseman, chief entomologist at the Missouri college of agriculture, today urged Missouri farmers to combat an invasion of army worms which he characterized as "the worst invasion in years."

The worms, he said, are doing serious damage to pastures and small grains, particularly barley.

Damage was noted in the southern section of the state a week ago, Dr. Haseman reported the pests had appeared in fields bordering the Missouri river. Northern counties, he predicted, probably will be attacked within the next few days.

Poison bran mash, similar to that used in last year's drive against grasshoppers, was recommended today. The entomologist said a mixture of bran and sawdust, containing sodium arsenite or paris green, was effective in killing the worms. Addition of a small amount of blackstrap molasses as a flavoring, he said, increased efficiency of the mixture.

Dr. Haseman said the mash, when applied at the rate of 10 pounds per acre, would do double duty in areas where grasshoppers have hatched and are feeding. However, he declared a drive should be directed against army worms at the present time. No grasshopper damage has been reported, he said.

The committee which charged Parkinson had been engaged in the unprofessional and unethical practice of law for more than ten years, asked that his license be revoked. It charged he was guilty of "professional misconduct, malpractice, deceit and misdemeanor of office in his professional practice."

Parkinson, who is about 62 years old, is a son-in-law of the late Gov. William J. Stone. He is a former member of the house of representatives from St. Joseph.

In addition to the specific charges made against him by the bar committee, general charges of filing fraudulent suits, dividing fees, and employing agents and runners were set out by the committee.

AWARDED MEDAL IN ACCORDING AID
By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—Robert Hildebrand, a toll repairman for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company at Fulton, Mo., has been named one of three employees of the Bell system telephone employees to receive the 1937 Vail memorial medal awarded for "noteworthy public service," company officials announced today.

Through Hildebrand's efforts four persons injured in an automobile accident near Booneville, Mo., April 17, 1936, received medical care. Finding four of five passengers in a motor car en route from Kansas City to St. Louis, seriously injured after the automobile had crashed into a railroad viaduct, Hildebrand gave them first aid, posted warning flags and bystanders to prevent additional collisions, and then summoned physicians and ambulances with his telephone test set.

NEW AFFIDAVIT
GIVEN IN PAYROLL
INVESTIGATION

Prosecutor Wymore Expects To Confer With Miss Dorothy Schoer

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 1.—Carl P. Wymore, Cole county prosecuting attorney, received from Attorney General Roy McKittick today a third affidavit in the investigation of alleged irregularities in the Missouri legislative payroll.

Signed by Joseph H. Stroer, 4227 South Grand avenue, St. Louis, identified as assistant treasurer of the Hyde Park Breweries Association, Inc., St. Louis, the affidavit certifies to continuous employment of Thomas King, 1811 Allen street, St. Louis, in that city since December, 1933, "subject to lay-off."

A Thomas King is listed on the house of representatives payroll as certified by Representatives Edward J. Hogan, Jr., and Edward M. Brady of St. Louis as their clerk.

Wymore said he had "as yet" no evidence to indicate the two are one and the same Thomas King, but that he "understood" the attorney general's office was seeking an affidavit from the St. Louis man.

The Stroer affidavit, executed Saturday in St. Louis, was obtained by Joseph A. Leman, assistant attorney general, working at the St. Louis end of the payroll inquiry, McKittick said.

It certifies that King "has been personally present and worked in our plant at 2110 Salisbury street in the city of St. Louis, state of Missouri, continuously since December 14, 1933, as indicated by our personnel records," and that he has worked at the plant 5 days a week since January 1, 1937, "subject to days off."

Wymore said he expected to confer later today with Miss Dorothy Schoer, of St. Louis, concerning her affidavit denying she has done legislative work or received any of the $475 in warrants issued in her name as legislative clerk for Representatives Edwin G. Foerst and Michael R. Kennedy, St. Louis.

Neither Foerst nor Kennedy have communicated with him, Wymore said, despite his telegraphic request last Friday to see him not later than yesterday.

IDENTIFY BULLET PIERCED BODY
By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—The bullet pierced body of a man, unearthed from a shallow grave in a wooded section of St. Louis county, was identified today as that of Fred Arberthal of Jefferson City, county authorities announced.

The identification was made by Paul Reed, a tavern proprietor, and Claude George, a garage mechanic, both of St. Louis county.

Reed said Arberthal, who came to work for him in March after leaving Jefferson City, had been missing since April 9. George is employed in a garage where he said Arberthal had left his automobile to be repaired.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—The unidentified body of a man, approximately 37 years of age, unearthed from a shallow grave in a wooded section here yesterday, offered St. Louis county police their most baffling puzzle today.

A post-mortem performed early today, Coroner John O'Connell said, showed three bullets had been fired into the left side of the head, and the skull had been fractured, apparently by a blow from a blunt instrument, but offered few clues to the identity of the slain man.

County and city authorities checked lists of missing persons, and pursued several "leads" without success. A picture of a boxer tattooed on the man's chest, and a gold tooth in his upper jaw provide the principal means of identification, the coroner indicated, as police were unable to get fingerprints of the left hand because of its decomposed condition. Fingerprints of both hands are necessary, police said.

The man was about 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighed approximately 150 pounds. He had brown hair, the coroner reported. The body was clothed in a blue shirt, dark trousers, underwear and socks.

A dog led his master to the body, Deputy Sheriff Joseph L. Doran said, relating how August Keim, St. Louis, while walking with his son, August, Jr., inspecting property in the section, was attracted to the grave by the barking of his dog. Doran quoted Keim as saying he saw a man's hand sticking out of the ground, and hurried to call officers.

Doran, and three constables dug the body, from a grave about one foot deep. The head was covered with rocks. The deputy said the man probably had been buried about a week.

RAISE QUESTION
ON WHO CHARGED WITH EVASIONS

Instances Related of Flagrant Cases In Examples Cited

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Roosevelt's message detailing examples of tax evasion raised today in capitol conversation the question—who are those charged by the treasury with evasion.

The message mentioned no names but listed the following instances, which gave a comprehensive description of some asserted evaders.

1. "One American citizen with a $3,000,000 Bahamas corporation has apparently attempted to prevent the bureau of internal revenue from catching up with him by filing his individual tax returns in successive years from towns in New Brunswick, British Columbia and Jamaica."

2. "Perhaps the most flagrant case of this character is that of a retired American army officer with a large income from valuable American securities which he desires to sell at a very large profit. To escape income and inheritance tax laws, he used the device of becoming a naturalized Canadian citizen, and six days later organized four Bahamas corporations to hold his securities."

3. "Two New York insurance agents have caused the organization of insurance companies in the Bahamas with a view to enabling tax payers to secure spurious deductions for interest through an ingenious scheme for the issuance of life insurance policies."

4. "One man's yacht is owned by his personal holding company, along with $3,000,000 in securities. He rents the yacht from his company for a sum far less than the cost of the upkeep, and the company uses its income from the securities to pay the wages of the captain and crew, the expense of operating the yacht and an annual depreciation allowance."

5. "One wealthy man has placed his $5,000,000 city residence in such a corporation; another his racing stable whose losses last year were nearly $200,000."

6. "One wealthy woman has improved on the general plan of evasion by causing her personal holding company, which owns her country place to employ her husband at a salary to manage it. She can thereby supply him with pocket money, and in effect claims a tax reduction for the expense of maintaining him."

7. "One thrifty taxpayer has formed 64 trusts for the benefit of four members of his immediate family, and thereby claims to have saved them over $485,000 in one year in taxes."

8. "Another thrifty pair have constituted 40 trusts for their relatives and a prominent lawyer and his wife utilize 16 trusts for the same purpose."

9. "In one case $43,000 is annually appropriated by (a) corporation to a pension trust for the benefit of its two chief owners. One of the co-owners will retire at the age of 65 with a monthly pension of $1,725 and the other will retire at 60 with a monthly pension of $1,425."

HOPES TO SEE
LAW ENFORCING IN CURRICULA

John Edgar Hoover, F. B. I. Director, Gives Address To "Grads"

FULTON, Mo., June 1.—John Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, told the graduating class of Westminster college today that he hoped to see the time when law enforcement and all correlated subjects were included in college curricula.

"This does not mean that colleges should be crowded with persons who desire to become hunters of men," he declared. "It does mean, however, that a new day should be dawning in the education of our youth toward the assimilation of a knowledge necessary to the protection of the family and of the community."

Hoover, recalling the dangers faced by the pioneers in winning the west, asserted there was a "tremendous need for present-day pioneering against our modern savage—the criminal." He said young people "must accept the gauntlet thrown down to them by more than 4,300,000 persons who have chosen to defy our laws."

The G-man chief said every 24 seconds in the United States last year, some one was robbed, assaulted, plundered, attacked or murdered. There was a death of violence every 40 seconds.

The catching of the law-breaker often is a small part of the battle against crime, Hoover continued, because "the problem of crime is more than merely that of criminals—it is a wide-spread one of economics, of political economy, of psychology, of psychiatry and of social investigation."

"Therefore, he went on, 'the college which would pioneer in public protection must build for itself a course which encompasses all of these subjects. It must teach how to know and remedy municipal corruption; how to know and remedy inefficient law enforcement; how to know and remedy the greed for selfish private gain which so often stifles enforcement activities.'

"Beyond this, it must teach an understanding of crime and inculcate in the student's mind a knowledge of criminal psychology differing from the old and out-moded belief that criminals are born and not made, for we have many of both types."

"And above all, it should teach the tremendous import and responsibility of parenthood as concerns today's children. Of all our present crime-breeding conditions, the most culpable of all is the unthinking American parent."

President Asks Congress To End Dodging Of Taxes

—first that if an individual can devise unanticipated methods to avoid taxes which the congress intended him to pay he is doing nothing unpatriotic or unethical; and, second, that because certain individuals do not approve of high income tax brackets, or the undistributed earnings tax, or the capital gains tax, the first duty of the congress should be the repeal or reduction of those taxes.

"In other words, not one but many red herrings are in preparation."

PLAN TO BLOCK SHIPS WITH WAR SUPPLIES
ROME, June 1.—Italian warships have been ordered to prevent Russian vessels from supplying war materials to the Spanish government, authoritative sources disclosed tonight.

Italian ships in Spanish waters already have been withdrawn by Premier Mussolini from the international neutrality fleet, following Spanish government aerial attacks on Italian and German warships in reprisal.

Il Duce and Marshal Werner Von Blomberg, German war minister, meanwhile flew here for conferences over the grave Spanish situation.

Authoritative Fascist quarters said that complete withdrawal of Italy's fighting ships from Spanish waters because of Mussolini's decision to quit the 27-nation "hands off Spain" committee would make

INDIANAPOLIS, June 1.—(AP)—Victory finally caught up with dapper Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis yesterday after seven attempts to win the Indianapolis 500-mile race, America's classic of the speedways. In a record breaking performance Shaw roared to triumph, finishing by the inconceivably close margin of two seconds ahead of veteran Ralph Hepburn of Los Angeles. Their thrilling duel kept a record breaking crowd of 170,000 spectators roaring in the dramatic closing miles of the race.

Hepburn, overcome by heat midway in the race, climbed back in his car to drive the remaining 87 miles and fought it out with Shaw every inch of the way. Only fourteen seconds separated them when they started their last two laps and he continued his desperate challenge until the finish.

Shaw covered the 500 miles faster than any driver ever whirled around this two and half mile track course before. His time was 4:24:07.81 to average 113.580 miles an hour, eclipsing the previous record of 109.669 miles an hour established by Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif., in winning the event a year ago.

Ted Horn of Los Angeles finished third with Meyer fourth, nearly ten miles back of the flying leaders. Cliff Bergere of Los Angeles took fifth and "Wild Bill" Cummings of Indianapolis, one of the pre-race favorites, pulled up sixth. Billy Devore of Kansas City, finished seventh, Tony Gulotta of Kansas City eighth, George Connor of San Bernardino, Calif., ninth and Louis Tomei of Los Angeles, tenth. Nineteen of the original 33 starters survived the grueling grind. The blazing heat and the terrific speed knocked out fourteen cars. Jimmy Snyder, one-time Chicago milkman, was among the first to surrender. He was forced to quit after covering 65 miles due to a broken transmission. He took the lead after covering 12 miles and set such a terrific pace his car was unable to stand up under it. Rex Mays of Glendale, Calif., Babe Stapp of Dallas, Texas, Mauri Rose of Detroit, national AAA driving champion, and Kelly Pettillo, the former Los Angeles truck driver, also were among the withdrawals due to motor trouble.

Not until the winner had finished was there an accident or even a driver scratched. Then the car driven by Floyd Davis of Springfield, Ill., gamely struggling miles back in an attempt to land in the money, crashed into a wall on the north turn. Davis and his mechanic, Dee Toran of San Diego, Calif., were picked up unconscious and rushed to the Field Hospital. Their injuries were said not to be serious.

The thirty-four year old Shaw earned about $40,000 as a result of his triumph. He received $20,000 in cash as first prize, $5,500 in lap prizes and close to $15,000 from automobile accessory firms and gasoline companies.

Shaw drove a masterful race and went the entire distance without relief. He stopped only twice to replenish fuel and change tires and was never worse than third. After losing the lead to Hepburn three times, Shaw regained it at 409 miles and hung on to the finish.

U. S. SWEEPS DAVIS CUP ZONE MATCHES

FOREST HILLS, N. J. June 1.—(AP)—The United States Davis Cup team blanked Australia, five matches to none, by sweeping the last two singles yesterday at the West Side Tennis stadium. Bryan (Betsy) Grant, the Georgia "giant killer," overwhelmed Jack Crawford, 6-0, 6-2, 7-5, after Don Budge downed 18-year-old Jack Bromwich, 6-2, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

A holiday crowd of scarcely 3,000 saw the Americans complete an impressive slam and qualify to play the European zone winner, probably Germany, for the right to challenge England for the historic tennis trophy.

Grant and Budge each scored two single victories. Budge paired with Gene Mako to win the deciding point in the doubles Sunday.

SEDALIA A'S PLAY COLUMBIA TONIGHT

The Sedalia Athletics baseball team, victors in their first four starts this season, face their toughest opposition to date when they take on the Columbia Merchants on the Columbia diamond at 8:15 o'clock tonight.

The local club will send Gene Horner, young right-handed speedball pitcher against the Columbians, who recently gave evidence of their strength by splitting a two-game series with the roving House of David team.

Light, veteran shortstop of the Sedalians, will miss the game because of an ankle injury and the local lineup will be juggled somewhat as the result of his absence. The probable starters for the A's: Horner, p.; Summers, c.; Livengood, 1b.; Barnes, 2b.; Lobough, 3b.; Small, 3b.; Case, lf.; Zey, cf.; and Brownfield, rf.

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, June 1.—Yep, Brooklyn is still in the league. . . . Carl Hubbell adds: "and how." . . . New York fans are disappointed that Bob Pastor didn't stop Bob Nestell, who has had only 12 pro fights. . . . The big crowd at the Polo Grounds howled when Burleigh Grimes sent in Van Mungo to protect a five (count 'em) five run lead. . . . Burleigh aimed to win that one, all right.

James J. Braddock and Max Schmeling are advertised to fight "15 rounds, or less" for the heavyweight title. . . . About 15 rounds less would be what the doctor ordered. . . . Since he swore off smoking for a month, Jimmy Dykes, manager of the White Sox, has been presented more than 300 cigars. . . . Jimmy's time is up June 13 and he hopes the stogies won't be too dry to operate on. . . . This corner will risk a few bucks that Pedro Montanez will be the next lightweight champion.

There is nothing quite like the rivalry between the Giants and the Dodgers. . . . They stopped selling bleacher seats for yesterday's double header. . . . 11 a. m. . . . Some, particularly those who had paid $10 for a pair of $1.50 seats. . . . Not a few addicts forked out $15 for three of same. . . . After 12:30 the cops wouldn't let you out of the subway unless you could show a reserved seat ticket. . . . "Hey'd say, 'keep riding, brother,' and push you right back into those cars.

Don Gutteridge, flashy third sacker of the Cardinals, is thrilling national league fans with his speed. . . . In the last few days he has sprinted from first to third in on-field singles. . . . Fans haven't seen much of that kind of stuff since Ty Cobb was around. . . . Hugo Bezdek, who used to turn out good football teams for Penn State, will have a try at the pro racket as coach of the Cleveland Rams. . . . Hope we can get some of that Indianapolis speed for the Roosevelt speedway races July 3—Boston fans proved themselves first flight sports by giving Bump Hadley (who beamed Nixie Cochran) that fine ovation when he took the hill for the Yankees yesterday.

HUBBELL'S STRING ENDED BY DODGERS
NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—Carl Hubbell's winning streak, the longest in baseball history against league competition over a two-season stretch, was broken at 24 straight victories yesterday. The Brooklyn Dodgers belted him out in four innings and scored a 10 to 5 victory over the Giants in the first game of a double-header.

The largest crowd of the season at the Polo grounds a capacity turnout of about 60,000 saw the Dodgers tee off with seven hits off Hubbell in 3½ innings and complete the route against three other pitchers.

The defeat was the first against Hubbell since the Chicago Cubs beat him 1 to 0 last July 13. Fred Frankhouse started for the Dodgers and lasted until the eighth when Manager Burleigh Grimes replaced him with the fireball ace, Van Mungo, apparently to insure the victory.

Hubbell walked three and fanned one in his brief tour of duty. He also hit one batsman, Buddy Hassett.

Only John Cooney and the two Brooklyn pitchers failed to hit safely at least once against Hubbell and the rest of the Giant flingers. Leading the attack were rookie Gil Brack, who clouted two doubles and a single; Heinie Manush, who connected for three singles and drove in as many runs; and Shortstop Woody English, who collected three singles.

WHEAT VALUES RULE HIGHER

CHICAGO, June 1.—Despite transient setbacks that resulted largely from profit taking, wheat values ruled higher today.

Some of the late buying of wheat was associated with preparation for June unofficial crop estimates to be issued here tomorrow. Late estimates of Canadian export business placed today's total at 1,000,000 bushels.

At the close, wheat was 1 cent to 1 1/2 cents above Saturday's finish, July $1.13 1/2 to $1.14, Sept. $1.12 1/2, corn unchanged to 1 1/2 cent lower, July $1.21 1/2 to $1.21 1/2, Sept. $1.09 1/2 to $1.09 1/2, and oats 1/2 to 3/4 off.

TEX RANKIN WINS IN ST LOUIS AIR RACES MONDAY

Hollywood Stunt Flier
Takes Aerobic Contest at Air Show

LAMBERT-ST. LOUIS AIRPORT, ST. LOUIS, June 1.—(AP)—Tex Rankin, veteran Hollywood stunt flier, whose performance was all the more remarkable because he was flying a stock model low-wing monoplane, won the international acrobatic contest and $2,500 in prizes before 25,000 persons at St. Louis' air show Monday.

The 40-year-old pilot and authority on precision flying was given 282.7 points by a committee of four judges. Capt. Alexandro de Panama of the Rumanian Royal Air Force finished second with 269.4 points to win $1,000.

Only one point behind Panama in the judges' ratings was Paul Mantz, Amelia Earhart's technical adviser, who, during his maneuvers, was forced to dive to fan out flames which erupted from the belly of his plane.

Capt. Leonard J. Povey, American-born instructor of the Cuban air force, finished fourth in the contest with 191 points, and Lieut. Joe Mackey of Findlay, O., who had trouble with an erratic motor while in the air, trailed with 189.8 points.

In a "race horse" start for the only speed event of the day, Gus Gotch of Los Angeles barely was able to get his tiny yellow plane off the ground. But once in the air, he overhauled and lapped three other contestants to win the 50-mile dash around the triangular, pylons-marked course with a speed of 251.6 miles per hour.

Marion McKeen of Santa Monica, Calif., was second, S. J. Wittman, Oshkosh, Wis., third and Rudy Kling, Lemont, Ill., fourth.

The J. D. Brock trophy for the outstanding pilot in the show was awarded to Roger Don Rae, 1936 American champion racing pilot, who gave a remarkable exhibition of controlling a disabled plane in making a crash landing Saturday.

FUNERAL AT NELSON OF MRS. RILEY

Funeral services were held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Clare's Catholic church at Nelson for Mrs. Julia Johanna Dacy Riley, who died Saturday about noon at her farm home in Saline county, near Nelson, after a short illness. Burial was in the Nelson cemetery.

Mrs. Riley was born at Lanesburg, Pa., on February 4, 1852. She was married to Michael Roger Riley on February 8, 1874. The couple moved to Shelby county, Mo., where they lived until 1896, moving at that time to the Saline farm. She was preceded in death by three children, William Michael and Mary Ann, who died in infancy, and Elsie Riley.

MINIMUM AGE CUT APPROVED BY THE SENATE

Would Place Age Standard at 65 Instead of 70 Years

JEFFERSON CITY, June 1.—(AP)—The senate approved a house-proposed constitutional amendment to cut the minimum age for old age assistance from 70 to 65 years Monday but inserted an earmarking clause which may throw the resolution into a conference committee.

The senate education committee also wrote "finish" to the attempt of high tax school districts to get a relief fund at this session by failing to take action on Senator M. E. Casey's bill to set aside 15 per cent of the state school fund for that purpose. A similar proposal, passed by the house, has been in the committee for two months.

Chairman Frank Briggs, Macon, who favors the bill, said the committee probably would not meet this session, as there was no prospect of favorable action.

The proposed constitutional amendment cutting five years off the minimum pension age was passed once by the senate with the provision that the legislature also be empowered to set aside funds for pension purposes. Money so earmarked would not be subject to the usual one-third allotment to schools.

This amendment was killed by a house committee, and the house passed its own proposal, with no earmarking.

Today on the senate floor William Quinn, Waywood, author of the original earmarking proposal, got it inserted in the house resolution by a 16 to 4 vote. Quinn said he did not wish to hurt the proposal's chances of being passed by the people, and did not feel his amendment would have that effect.
